

Our Beers:

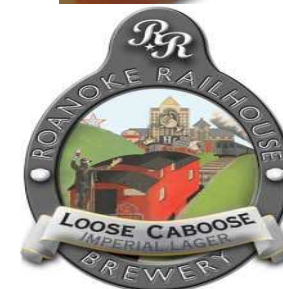

Track One is a Munich Dunkel:

- § A clean and balanced tasting lager that has light roast and chocolate bitter notes, while being balanced with lightly sweet and bready malt character. All of which is balanced out by a low bittering hop character.
- § Its aroma is reminiscent of chocolate and toasted malts and bread.
- § The appearance of this beer is dark amber/garnet to brown and it has a medium light body and moderate carbonation.

Loose Caboose is an Imperial Lager:

- § A strong lager in all senses of the word. The beer is balanced with a hoppy start and finish and a malt backbone so as not to be overly dry.
- § The beer is kind of rare in that it is a single hop beer, meaning that it showcases the hop as the bittering hop, aroma hop, and flavor hop. The hop that is used is a traditional German "nobel" variety, Hallertau Tradition. Beers like these are usually IPA's and are more often than not extreme.
- § This sets our beer apart, it is a drinkable hoppy lager that is formulated for the American palate and is the lager equivalent of a pale ale.
- § The body is medium to full with moderate carbonation and a dark golden to faint copper color.

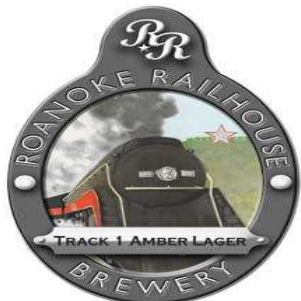

Railhouse - IPA

- § This is one Hopped-Up Beer.
- § Railhouse IPA has lots of wonderful hop aroma and flavor, subdued with malt with balanced bitterness with a stunning copper color
- § We use six different types of hops and our unique HOPBURST process to make this IPA. Hops used are Centennial, Chinook, CTZ, Millenium, Willamette, and Summit Hops
- § This beer is 7% ABV and 82 IBU's. Enjoy!
